A Message from Rabbi Jacob Herber

Rabbi Jacob Herber

By the end of the summer, the changes around us become visible. Trees, which aren't evergreens, begin to look different. Many streams are down to a trickle. The produce, sweet cherries and apricots, begin to give way in our minds to the expectations of the crispness of fall apples. The last, long, languid days of summer begin to take a back seat to a list of tasks that seems to grow each day. We begin to realize that, yes, things will soon be different. We experience this powerful sense of difference at this season each year.

But this year, like last year, feels different from those of the more distant past.

We continue to feel unsettled with all that has gone on over the last 16 months, from political change to environmental threat – were those not brutally hot, record setting days in June? – to cautious optimism as we emerge from the pandemic to a “new normal.” We feel it from rising anger and shattered civility. We feel far less certain about our world and even ourselves as the summer begins to draw to a close. We're tempted to take ourselves out of the fray and tend to ourselves and to our own instead.

As Jews, how must we respond?

Our tradition asks us to respond with our best selves. Instead of doubling down on anger toward others, it asks us to hold ourselves accountable for what we say and do. This is the season of accountability for Jews.

We call it the “Season of Teshuvah” or Repentance. It starts with the beginning of the Jewish month of Elul and goes on through the end of Sukkot. Teshuvah, or repentance, means recognizing and holding ourselves accountable. We can't evade responsibility for what we've said and done. We're accountable to ourselves, to those we love and to God.

As Jews, we hold ourselves accountable for both what we've done and what we've not done. We hold ourselves accountable for what we've said and what we haven't said. In Judaism it's not enough to reckon with our mistakes. We're held to account for our apathy and inaction as well.

As we gear up for the fall season, with the High Holy Days and the start-up of programs old and new, it's up to us to think, feel and respond. We rouse ourselves to thoughtfully and civilly speak up and to speak out. Beyond that, we're called to act. Words alone can't bring us repentance nor positive change.

What are you going to do?

I pray we come together this holiday season and affirm the truths from the tradition we cherish.

I pray that we recognize the wrongs that need righting, in ourselves, in our community and in our world, and that we find the courage to act.

And, I pray that each and every one of you is blessed with health, joy and love. Shanah Tovah U'metukah. Wishing you a good, sweet year,

-RABBI JACOB HERBER

Selichot

Saturday, August 28

Film: The Quarrel, & Discussion: 8:45 PM

Selichot service: 11:00 PM

S'lichot services will follow the film screening and discussion of The Quarrel. Set in 1948 Montreal on Rosh Hashanah, The Quarrel tells the story of Chaim, a Yiddish writer, who is forced to think of his religion when he's asked to be the tenth in a minyan. As he sits in the park, he suddenly sees an old friend whom he hasn't seen since they quarreled when they were yeshiva students together. Hersch, a rabbi, survived Auschwitz and his faith was strengthened by his ordeal, while Chaim escaped the Nazis, but had lost his faith long before. The two walk together, reminisce, and argue passionately about themselves, their actions, their lives, their religion, their old quarrel, and their friendship. This special program, featuring a discussion led by Rabbi Herber, is a great introduction to the spiritual work we all need to do to prepare for the High Holidays. Register at h-nt.org/selichot beginning 2 weeks before.

Message from the President

This has been an exciting summer at HNT. The biggest news, of course, has been the return of in-person services. My first Shabbat inside the building, I looked at those around me and commented that I'd never been so excited to be at services.

We often talk about the sanctuary as a sacred space, and after being away from it for over a year, it was incredibly emotional to be in the building, surrounded by other congregants, participating in services. And it was reassuring to know that we were also reaching those beyond our building, and even our local community, with our streamed services. Recently we have been able to turn our attention to other areas of focus. While discussion of the community campus was put on hold for the pandemic, it is still a possibility, and we continue to consider options on both sides of the street.

This month we celebrate Rabbi Herber's one year anniversary as the Sr. Rabbi of HNT. These were not easy conditions in which to begin his time with us, but he's been a true leader in getting us through these difficult times. There will continue to be more opportunities to meet with Rabbi Herber, in person, and we're still planning an official welcome event at some point.

This summer we also welcomed Merav Canaan as our new Executive Director. She has hit the ground running, learning all she can about our community, building, and programs, and I know she will be an asset to everyone at HNT. I am excited to partner with both Rabbi Herber and Merav, and I know we will accomplish great things together this year.

Thank you,

- ILYSE WAGNER, HERZL-NER TAMID PRESIDENT

Shout Outs

Tutoring at Leschi Elementary School

While small in number, this year's Leschi tutors made a significant impact in teaching students how to improve their reading skills. Sincere thanks go to Michael Adler, Andrea Cordova, Victoria Eskenazi, Marci Nemhauser and Ettie Davis who were trained and worked online with students twice a week using a scripted program called Reading Partners. The ability to work with the same student for most of the year made it possible to really observe individual progress. Linda Krisher also had the opportunity to coordinate with a Leschi teacher and tutor two students online for the past 4-6 months.

Special thanks to Linda Krisher for her continued leadership, caring, and coordination of this project, which deeply impacts the lives of the next generation. She is a true role model of what it means to make a difference.

A Message from Director of Education Dr. Eliyahu Krigel, CJE

A Dvar

“God says, “Who has ever come into a synagogue and has not found My glory there?” “And not only that,” said Rabbi Aibu, “but if you are in a synagogue God stands by you.”

—DEUTERONOMY RABAH, KI TAVO 7:2

When the Second Temple was destroyed by the Romans in 70 CE, the Jews of the time learned to adapt and change. The drastic pivot they encountered is similar to life after the pandemic as we begin to reopen and emerge together as one community. Raban Yochanan ben Zakai was granted permission by Vespasian to rebuild in Yavneh. The academy he was instrumental in establishing helped pave the way for Judaism to bend and mold into the future. As we prepare for the school year ahead, the quote above reminds us of the importance of showing up to synagogue. Now more than ever is our time to rebuild and experience the glory in our sanctuary, the learning in our classrooms, and the special feeling of being together at Herzl-Ner Tamid.

This past year I have seen bar and bat mitzvah students rise to the occasion of meeting this sacred moment with grit and determination. I have witnessed families overcome the great challenge of this time by going inward and focusing on strengthening their ties and connections. I have been honored to stand alongside the FRS teachers and teaching assistants as they rolled up their sleeves and pivoted to make FRS a success. I commend all of you for each in your own way moving forward through this past year with endurance. Now in our reimagining process we are thrilled to stand poised to welcome our students back to our building. The laughter and sounds of friends connecting in our hallways has been lacking and we are all looking forward to regaining this needed camaraderie as we begin another school year together. I appreciate your trust and collaboration as we move forward together into this new year.

Thank you for registering for FRS for the 2021-2022 academic school year with this link below so we can plan accordingly:

Join us for our long-awaited return to in-person programming (for those who are comfortable)! We will kick off our year with time for socializing, catching up, and some games. Around 6 PM, we will transition to Shabbat Dinner. In order to make this event accessible to all, we will open our normal Zoom room for candle lighting and prayers from 6:00 to 6:30 so that those who are not yet vaccinated can join with us to welcome in Shabbat and the beginning of what promises to be an extremely exciting year!

Adult Education

Christians and Jews in Conversation

In response to the growth of antisemitism in our local community of Mercer Island, Washington and nationally in America, the SJCC is offering a series of classes and interactive experiences which address the historic Christian-Jewish relationship in all of its complexity. This is a continuation and deepening of the work we (Rabbi Rosenbaum and Rev. Riley) began together in January 2021.

Coming in September:

Jewish-Christian Dialogue

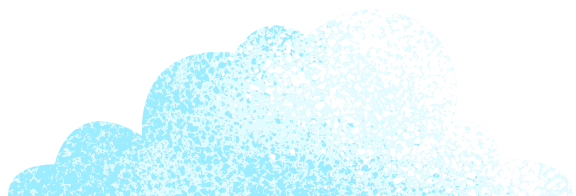

Two Paths to One God: Jews and Christians Exploring Holy Difference with Reverend Elizabeth Riley and Rabbi Jay Rosenbaum

Fifty years ago, the Christian world revolutionized its relationship with the Jewish people by rejecting the teaching of contempt, the belief that Jews were to be blamed for the death of Jesus. In our age of polarization, the profound transformation of Jewish-Christian relations can serve as a model for all of us.

- How did this great change come about?
- What led to the teaching of contempt in the first place?
- What are common misconceptions Christians and Jews have of each other?
- What is the work we still have to do to create a more compassionate relationship?
- How can a deepening understanding between Jews and Christians create opportunities for us to work together to build a better world?

The Shabbat/Sabbath in Jewish and Christian Experience

This will be a face to face encounter with Jewish and Christian spiritual practice. Members of the Christian community will have the opportunity to attend a Shabbat (Sabbath) worship service at Herzl-Ner Tamid Conservative Congregation on a Friday night. And, members of the Jewish community will have a chance to attend a Sunday worship service at Emmanuel Episcopal. There will be time for questions and discussion.

Coming in November:

Making Spirit Matter: The Relationship between Body and Soul in Judaism and Christianity with Rabbi Jay Rosenbaum and Rev. Elizabeth Riley

In this class, we will explore more deeply stereotypes that Jews and Christians have about each other regarding the physical world, the human body, law and love. This will lay the groundwork for semester two on Israel in February.

What are the similarities and differences between Judaism and Christianity on:

- Our relationship with the physical world?
- The relationship between spirit and matter, body and soul?
- The tangibility and intangibility of God?

What can we learn from each other? How can a deeper understanding of our similarities and differences in this area lead us to a closer relationship with each other?

Coming in December-January:

Building the Christian-Jewish Relationship: Two experiential church/synagogue experiences

This will be an opportunity for Christian and Jewish participants to get to know each other personally in a friendly social/spiritual setting, involving synagogue, church and home.

Coming in February:

Israel Matters: How Christians and Jews May Think Similarly and Differently About the People and the Land with Rabbi Jay Rosenbaum and Rev. Elizabeth Riley

We will explore Jewish and Christian perspectives on what Jews call The Land of Israel and what Christians (and sometimes Jews) often refer to as The Holy Land. What are the roots of our perspectives? Where do we differ? And, where can we find common ground?

Check the SJCC website and upcoming eKol communications for registration information.
